Mills Field, Which Did Tremendous Job During War, May Become Major Airport

BY RICHARD TAYLOR

From the control tower at Mills Field you can see 140 planes a day—the ocean-spanning Clippers and Constellations, the sleek silver transcontinental transports, the army's yeoman C-54 cargo-carriers, bombers, fighters, planes of all sizes and descriptions—arrive and leave.

The control tower, which directs the movements of every plane in the air anywhere near the field, is a good place to survey the past and present, and seek to look into the future, of Mills Field.

The past includes a tremendous war job well done. The present is an airport through which pass 1750 passengers a day, coming and going. The future could be a position as one of the world's major airports, a focus of Pacific basin commerce.

To a large extent the future is in the hands of the voters of San Francisco. On Nov. 6 they pass on a $20,000,000 bond issue, intended to finance a tremendous program of improvements at the field.

If the bond issue fails to pass, the airlines may be driven to taking their Pacific Coast centers of operations to other cities—Los Angeles or Seattle—which already are busy enlarging their airport facilities for the greater flight loads of the future.

A talk with H. S. Messersmith, a cheerful little man who is operations superintendent at the airport, makes it abundantly clear why expansion is necessary.

In a matter-of-fact way, Messersmith will tell you that in five to six years the airport expects to be handling 8000 to 10,000 passengers a day. That's about 3,000,000 passengers a year.

Within the same period, Messersmith forecasts, the number of employes at the airport will grow from 5400 to 20,000. And, as at present, most of these will live on the Peninsula. The high wages paid by airlines will be spent in Peninsula shopping centers.

Much hangs on the bond issue. If the city spends $20,000,000, private airlines have announced, they will spend nearly an equal amount on enlarging and improving their facilities. Pan-American plans to move from its present site at the edge of the bay, to a new 50-acre site west of Bayshore Hwy. If the bond issue passes.

If it doesn't pass?

"If someone else can provide the basic facilities, they'll get the big investment by private airlines," Messersmith says. Los Angeles, and Seattle and Tacoma, which maintain a joint airport, already are improving and enlarging their airfields to ensure the basic facilities for major-scale passenger and freight air carriers.

The facilities which would be built at Mills with the bond funds would include a passenger terminal building at which from 30 to 60 large transports could load or discharge passengers simultaneously.

Two pairs of dual runways, 8000 to 10,000 feet in length, also will be built. They will be able to handle planes with a wheel load of 160,000 pounds—as big as the largest planes now even projected.

Already under construction, and nearly completed, is a new main runway nearly 8000 feet long. Its elevation is eight feet above the elevation of any of the present runways, making for easier landings and take-offs.

Ther's no foreseeable danger that Mills, located between Bayshore Hwy. and the bay, will become too small to handle the volume of San Francisco-bound air traffic, Messersmith thinks. When Bayshore is rebuilt as a freeway, it will be moved one mile west.

"We can always fill up some more of the bay," Messersmith says.

The present airport represents an investment of about $17,000,000. Of this amount, $4,000,000 has been spent by San Francisco, $13,000,000 by the federal government and private airlines.

The airport is still under army control. San Francisco leases it to the army for a dollar a year, except for the parts of the field which are leased by private air lines.

Four major airlines now operate from the field—Transcontinental and Western Air, United Air Lines, Western Air Lines, and Pan-American World Airways.

A fifth major line, American Air Lines, has asked the Civil Aeronautics Authority for permission to operate from Mills Field. Applications for "feeder" air lines, touching at smaller airports all over the West, have been made by several operators, including Southwest Airways and Ryan Aeronautics.

Planes leaving or arriving at the airport carry 77 million letters a month (that's about four million pounds of mail).

Jobs done by Mills Field during the war include the training of fighter pilots, the evacuation of wounded from the Pacific war theaters, the maintenance of coast guard patrols which have rescued scores of fliers forced down in the sea and shipwreck victims, the flying of personnel and supplies of all kinds to the battle fronts, and the carrying of mail to the troops.

The C-54 ferry service to the islands has become such a commonplace that it's not uncommon to hear a pilot on the field remark, "All my shirts are in the laundry in Australia."

After Pearl Harbor, Pan-American's ships flew to Hawaii vaccines and serum for the wounded, and vital supplies of all kinds—even seeds to grow food, in case the Japanese should succeed in entirely cutting off Hawaii from the mainland.

The Clipper flying boats, probably the most picturesque and storied planes to call Mills Field home, soon will be just history.

Pan-American plans to use only land-based planes in its overseas operations. They're faster and more economical to operate. "We never would have used sea planes at all but for the fact that we couldn't get land planes because of military needs," according to one Pan-American executive.

Here are some flying times of the future(in the Rainbow Clipper, the 400-mile-an-hour passenger transport which Pan-American has ordered from the Republic Aircraft Corp. for delivery within 22 months.)

To Los Angeles, an hour; to Seattle, two and a half hours; to Honolulu, six hours; to New York, six hours; to Tokyo, 15 hours; to Manila, 20 hours; to Calcutta, 28 hours.

Before too long, airline executives predict, you'll be able to fly to New York for less than it costs now to go there by bus.

That's the shape of the future at Mills Field—wings—for the common man. To men like Joseph Zunino of San Francisco, who has been crew chief at the airport for 18 years, almost from the day of its founding in 1927, that $20,000,000 bond issue seems like an awfully good investment.

Zunino puts it like this:

"We can't afford not to do it."

Girl, 2, Boy, 10 Months, Saved From S.C. Home When Fire Breaks Out

Quick think on the part of a 67-year-old grandfather Sunday night saved the two small children of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Morton of 1311 Geneva Ave., San Carlos, from their blazing home. San Carlos Fire Chief Lyle G. Clark reported.

D. M. Eby, retired railroad man who was visiting at the Morton's home, discovered the blaze at 9:55 p.m. when the crackling flames awakened him in his bedroom.

Investigating, he found the adjacent living room a mass of flames and the house smoke-filled.

He closed the door, quickly went to the nearby bedroom and passed his 10-month-old grandson, Donald, out the window to a neighbor, Leslie G. McLeod, of 1736 Howard Ave.

Eby then went through the burning front room of the ranch-type home to the kitchen where he telephoned the fire department, leaving the receiver off the hook. He then returned to the bedroom in which he had been sleeping.

There he took the Morton's other child, Carol Evelyn, 2, into his arms and handed her through a window to Edward Tuite of 1636 Howard Ave.

Eby, who suffered slight head burns when he returned through the fire-engulfed living room, went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Youngberg at 1737 Howard Ave., where the children were taken and where the elderly man was given treatment and clothing.

Neighbors, who attempted to summon the Mortons at a theater in San Carlos, were unable to get word to the pair who first learned of the fire upon arriving home from the show after 11 o'clock.

Morton, a San Francisco advertising executive, said, "We thought one of the neighbors was having a party when we saw all the cars. Then we saw the fire engines—"

Mr. and Mrs. Morton today were unable to determine extent of damage caused by the fire, which destroyed living room furnishings, including antiques, and caused extensive smoke damage throughout the house.

Eby, who had just arrived for a visit with his daughter, lost all of his personal belongings which were in a living room closet where the fire, according to Clark, began from spontaneous combustion.

Motion picture equipment and numerous reels of family pictures were destroyed in the closet, the Mortons said.

Eby this morning told the fire chief he had retired about 9:30 o'clock, and at that time, had seen no smoke or signs of a fire.

Chief Clark today praised Eby for his actions, declaring, "He used his head."

"His work saved the lives of the children," Clark said.

Meanwhile today, neighbors added their praises of the fire department as the Mortons began house hunting. They are staying with neighbors until the extensive damage to their home can be repaired or until they find another house.

Young Mother Faces Charge

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO—A 23-year-old mother Monday faces a possible jail sentence for neglect of her four children, aged 6 years to 13 months.

South San Francisco police and a county probation officer who investigated a complaint made by the children's grandmother, yesterday found the four children living in "indescribable filth."

Sgt. August Terragno of the South San Francisco police force went to the housing project apartment of Mrs. Delia Wilson, 862 Victory Ave., Lindenville, to investigate a complaint that Mrs. Wilson's children were being neglected, made by Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Marjory Sundberg, 731 Colorado St., Palo Alto.

There he found four children, aged 6, 4, 3 and 13 months. Their mother had apparently been away from home most of the day. Garbage and dirty clothes strewed the floor. There was no food in the house, except for some sour milk in the refrigerator, which had apparently been there several days.

The children were crying and hungry.

Mrs. Wilson, returning home, told Terragno that she had left the children in the charge of a neighbor, Mrs. Desay Kettleman. Mrs. Kettleman denied this statement.

When Terragno declared that he ought to remove the children from their home at once, Mrs. Wilson threatened to kill herself.

Yesterday, Asst. San Mateo County Probation Officer Anthony Lovoi visited the Wilson home and reported that he found it "not fit for pigs to live in."

Lovoi said he would take immediate steps to have the children taken from their mother's custody.

If sufficient evidence can be accumulated, he said, Mrs. Wilson will be charged with neglecting her children, a misdeameanor which carries a jail penalty.

Mrs. Wilson until recently was employed at the Marine Corps equipment depot at Belair. Her husband is an army man, stationed in Texas.

Hospital Car Tickets Available

Twenty-five hundred tickets will be distributed tomorrow to banks, theaters, post-office and the schools where victory bonds and stamps are sold, admitting purchasers to the army hospital car which will be displayed here Monday and Tuesday, it was announced Wednesday. Bonds and stamps will be o sale at the car.

The giant hospital car, 85 feet long, will be shunted to the Redwood City siding late Sunday night and will be open for inspection from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, according to J. C. Ferrell, special events chairman for the Victory War Loan.

Two army nurses and an army enlisted man will be on duty to explain the features of the army's newest hospital on wheels. The car carries 36 patients, a doctor and nurse, has an emergency operating room, showers and individual roomettes.

The car will be switched to the Butcherfield siding near El Camino Real between James and Jefferson Aves.

CSC Adopts Preference For Vets Rule

A veterans' preference ruling which will add 5 or 10 per cent to county civil service examination scores of veterans, wives of disabled veterans, or veterans' widows was adopted by the San Mateo County Civil Service Commission at a meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The new ruling, today explained by Personnel Officer Russell J. Cooney, has been under consideration for some time.

Preference will be given only on the original examination, he said. Five per cent of the passing score of a veteran will be added, while 10 per cent will be added to the passing score of a veteran with at least a 10 per cent disability as measured by the veterans' administration.

The preference will be extended to wives of totally disabled veterans or veterans' widows, Cooney explained.

Civil service commissioners also passed a reinstatement clause which will permit persons who resign from the county classified service to be reinstated within six months after their resignations become effective.

Cooney said the ruling would apply only if the position were vacant and the appointive authority requested the employe's reinstatement.

The commission granted leaves of absence because of illness to Mrs. Elsie Minehan, Community Hospital telephone operator, Sidney H. Olsen, radio and telephone operator in the sheriff's office and Katie Brown, Canyon Sanatorium practical nurse.

Kate Cochran, health department stenographer, was granted a leave of absence because of personal business.

Next meeting of the commission will be Nov. 6.

The lowest annual fire loss in the U. S. fire history for the past 25 years was $235,263,000 in 1935.

'Co-operate or Die,' Speaker Warns Men's Group Here

"Co-operate or die."

So warned Dr. Ulyss S. Mitchell, vice president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, at a talk on "Human Relations in the Atomic Age," at the "Kickoff Dinner" of the Baptist Brotherhood at the First Baptist Church here Monday night.

Dr. Mitchell stressed that citizens must co-operate in matters of citizenship, in the home, in business, in the schools and in the churches.

"Re-establish the home to rehabilitate humanity," he declared. "Our schools should teach moral responsibilities."

"We've got a job to do and we're not doing it," he said. "Let the voice of God be heard in your community."

He pointed out that industrialists must take human relations into consideration if they are to succeed. He said that the various faiths and creeds must co-operate and make for public opinion of co-operation "so our children may live in happiness and peace."

Pres. L. T. Gateley presided at the meeting, the first by the group in several months. Everett Carlson introduced the speaker. Taking part on the program were L. P. Imboda, Robert Horton, Joseph Spinella, Elmer Reetz and Vernon Roberts. The group voted for Louis W. Allen to continue as scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 104, which the Brotherhood sponsors.

Race Horse Owners Sue for Damages

Owners of a 2-year-old thoroughbred race horse scheduled to race in the Bay Meadows meet that opened Tuesday has filed a $50,000 damage suit against a trucking company and charged negligent handling of the horse resulted in its death last month.

George A. Schraeder and Irene Schraeder, owners of the horse which this year raced at Del Mar and Santa Anita, Wednesday alleged in a complaint that E. W. Robinson, trucking company operator, and John Doe defendants contracted to transport Sir Grant from Arcadia in Southern California to Bay Meadows on Sept. 24.

Delivery was to be made in 14 hours, the Schraeders allege, but the journey took in excess of 40 hours, the complaint states.

The complaint further charges the defendants with failure to provide care and attention for the animal during the trip.

The Schraeders, who had Sir Grant registered for entry in next year's Santa Anita Derby, also ask costs of the suit.

S.F. Man Refuses Aid After Accident

A San Francisco man suffered minor injuries early Wednesday when the automobile in which he was riding collided with one driven by August Boudreaux, 25, of Camp Parks, at Schwenn St. and Geneva Ave., California Highway Patrol officers reported.

Jim Spotafora, 70, 757 Bacon St. San Francisco, refused medical treatment and would not leave an automobile driven by Lolie Perri, 50, of the same address, patrolmen said.

Burgess Replaces Fisher as Mayor of M.P.

MENLO PARK—The resignation of Mayor Donald Fisher was accepted with "regrets" by the Menlo Park City Council Tuesday night and Councilman Charles Burgess was appointed to finish out the term until the next election on Apr. 15, 1946.

Fisher, who resigned the post because he was unable to live in Menlo Park due to the housing situation, received the thanks of his fellow councilmen for his services to the city.

The new mayor, Charles Burgess, received his B.A. at Stanford in 1927 and is a municipal credit analyst with Kaiser & Co., San Francisco investment brokers. He has been a member of the city council since April, 1942.

Robert D. Rhodes, San Jose State professor, was voted to fill the vacancy on the council.

A telegram was received from Congressman Jack Anderson reporting that the House of Representatives yesterday passed the bill providing for the annexation of Dibble General Hospital by the City of Menlo Park.

Congressman Anderson added, "I am contacting Senators Downey and Knowland, requesting their assistance in obtaining the concurrence of the Senate.

The bid of $5945.08 submitted by Contractor L. C. Smith of San Mateo was accepted by the council for the work on the Merrill Ave. improvement.

A request was received from a Dibble Hospital authority asking that the city provide electric lights for a sign on El Camino Real to direct visitors to the hospital.

After a vote to pay all bills the meeting was adjourned until Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Charles Gans Addresses 17th District, CCPT, Meeting

Jefferson Union High School in Daly City was the setting for the Thursday meeting of the 17th District Congress of Parents and Teachers, with Mrs. L. G. Evans presiding.

Dr. Charles C. Gans, director of health and welfare of San Mateo County, flanked by his very capable co-workers, presented a concrete picture of the inner workings of the health and welfare departments. Each member was presented with an organization chart with schematic designs to enable the listener to better understand the spoken explanation.

The value of X-Ray film in detecting lung shadows was stressed upon by Dr. James O. Greenwell of Canyon Sanitarium.

The Supt. of Social Service, Mr. Adrian Ward, presented the welfare side of the picture, how neatly and efficiently the welfare work is able to dovetail the work of the health department when functioning under one head.

Supervisor of Public Health Nursing, Miss Hilda Schneider, urged the mothers to take every advantage offered them in the use of preventive measures, that only through their co-operation and understanding could the health problem be more carefully controlled.

In the absence of Mrs. F. D. Benz, director of health, Chmn. First Vice Pres. Mrs. Faun Tuska presented the following speakers: Mr. Ralph Steele of San Mateo J. C. presented "Social Hygiene"; "Mental Hygiene" was touched upon by Mr. W. Earl Whitaker of Lincoln School, Redwood City; while Miss Eleanor Throndsen, school health nurse of San Mateo County spoke of "School Health and Summer Round Up."

The Walt Disney film "Defense Against Invasion" completed the educational part of the program.

The J.U.H.S. choral class directed by Mr. McCarthy presented the following group of songs: "Chorale" by Wagner; "How Lovely are the Messengers," Mendelssohn; "One World," O'Hara; "Break Forth Oh Beauteous Heavenly Light," Bach; "Hear My Prayer," Arcadelt; "I Hear America Singing," De Rose. A member of the class, Miss Frances Crossley sang three numbers by John Jacot Niles, "Black, Black, Black," "I Wonder as I Wander," and "One Marnin' in May."

Community singing was enjoyed, with Mrs. F. L. Knuepfer leading and Mrs. G. J. Sirex accompanist.

The president, Mrs. Evans, appointed a Life Membership committee consisting of Mrs. J. M. Foley, Mrs. Stella L. Jensen, and Mrs. F. L. Knuepfer.

Greetings and a character thought were voiced by Mr. Stanford Hanna, district superintendent and principal of J. U. H. S., who concluded with the pointed statement, "If you know a man you like him."

Mrs. L. G. Evans, the president, gave her report from the state board meeting held recently in Los Angeles.

The president of the Jefferson unit, Mrs. Hollingsworth, and her committee of representatives of units from the northern part of the county arranged floral decorations and supervised the serving of a luncheon in the school cafeteria.

To Wed Saturday:

Betty Walford Is Bride-Elect

A white taffeta gown with a full length veil of heirloom lace will be worn by Betty Lillian Walford on Saturday, when she exchanges wedding vows with Lt. Owen Siler of the U. S. Coast Guard in a 7 o'clock ceremony at the All Saints' Episcopal Church in Palo Alto with the Rev. Oscar Green officiating.

Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Furnivall of Mountain View, former residents of Redwood City. She is the sister of Mrs. Claude Guffin of this city, the former Fay Walford, whose husband is now in the South Pacific with the navy; Mrs. John Gross, the former Nancy Furnivall of Mountain View; and Sgt. Gurth Walford of the army air force now in the South Pacific, all of whom were graduated from Sequoia High School.

The friendship of the couple began when Betty was a junior hostess in the AWVS canteen in San Francisco, where she has been residing while employed by the Standard Oil Co. In a recent contest conducted by Charm Magazine, Betty was selected as one of 10 girls in the United States, to represent California. She recently returned from a trip to New York, where she was guest editor of the magazine.

The future bridegroom, a graduate of the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Siler of Santa Maria. He recently returned from one of his many trips to the South Pacific and will ship out again from San Pedro following the couple's honeymoon in Southern California.

Mrs. Claude Guffin will be her sister's matron of honor at the wedding and the bridesmaids will be Mrs. John Gross, sister; Cathryn Siler, sister of the bridegroom-elect; Marjorie Penez of Redwood City, Jane Forno of San Francisco and Mrs. Gurth Walford, sister-in-law of the bride-to-be. Capt. Walter Siler Jr., brother of Owen, who recently returned from Germany, will perform best man duties.

A reception will follow the rites at the Furnivall home on Bryant Ave., Mountain View.

Betty was the guest of honor recently at a bridal shower given by her sisters, Mrs. Guffin and Mrs. Gross, at her mother's Mountain View home.

News of Commuters

BY LOCOMOTIVE BILL

Redwood City councilmen are to be congratulated on their on political selection of Edgar W. Blom as city manager. Mr. Blom's qualifications for the position are excellent and with 100 per cent co-operation from city officials, Redwood City can within a short time attain its rightful place as the leading city on the Peninsula. The problems are many, but we are confident that a man with the ability and experience of the newly appointed city manager can solve them.

As long as we are discussing Redwood City and its problems, the time is opportune to go into the subject of modernization once again. Over a year ago in this column we took the merchants to task for not modernizing their stores and pointed out that much business was being lost to Redwood City because some citizens felt they had to go to Palo Alto, San Mateo, or other neighboring communities to do their shopping.

We said at that time that Redwood City stores with few exceptions were unattractive and the merchandise poorly displayed. Last Wednesday evening at the Chamber of Commerce dinner Dr. Frank Cox of the State Board of Education in a critical speech told the merchants practically the same thing and stressed the importance of modernization. He declared that in a personal survey by him in Redwood City he found only three modern store fronts.

While Dr. Cox's remarks were critical and possibly disliked by some, we believe that the great majority of merchants agreed with him and plan needed improvements in the near future.

That they will have the support of commuters goes without saying. The commuters have always cooperated with the local merchants and spend a large share of their earnings in their home town. Offer them high quality merchandise, attractively displayed, with the same credit facilities offered by stores in other neighboring cities and we are confident that the merchants will be amazed at the increase in business directly attributed to their friends, the commuters.

Sparks: Claude Gerdes, Commuter Club director, sells Redwood City home and will shortly move to San Mateo. . . . Gene Hoffman had as his house-guest his cousin, Lt. Will gladly give information to all those interested. . . . Redwood City led all Peninsula cities in traffic safety last year and was one of very few cities in the state showing a reduction in traffic fatalities. Chief Collins and the Police Department are congratulated on this fine showing.

A letter received from Redwood City resident, Frank Louda Jr. approves of our suggestion that Redwood City provide a free pick-up service for garbage, cuttings, leaves, etc., such as now exists in San Mateo and Burlingame. Mr. Louda states among other things that if other communities can afford a garden cutting pick-up service, why not Redwood City?

The house committee meeting at the home of Stanley Perkins last Thursday evening developed into one of the longest sessions of the year. With such hot stove leaguers present as Elmer Ross, Bill Curran, Roy Fredlund, Ray Cereghino, Joe McClellan, Jack Welch, Chester Armstrong, and Clarence Brizee among others, all problems were solved and the meeting ended in a spirit of harmony.

How to make Hallowe'en fun for all

Youngsters traditionally think of Hallowe'en as their very own for fun-making, but it's no surprise to find the adults aiding and abetting them in hilarious pranks. That is why Hallowe'en is an especially good party-night at home where family and guests may participate in games, and—in the spirit of the thing—the simplest repast is regarded as a banquet.

For the young and boisterous, the kitchen is always the favorite spot for Hallowe'en entertaining, because bobbing for apples, drinking water from glasses without touching them, and the usual customary frolic, sometimes become riotous and the kitchen can take it. Besides these games some form of ghost stories and fortune telling should be included.

Food served from the kitchen, even though games are played elsewhere in the house, is a good idea. For your more sedate guests (if there are any at this point!) you might prefer to serve a buffet supper or refreshments in the dining room.

There are no elaborate refreshments required on Hallowe'en; even though the spooky-clad guests have hearty appetites, they don't expect fancy foods. However, weird names add atmosphere and flavor to hearty foods, and many a menu can be concocted for all guests, large or small, from the following suggestions:

MAIN COURSE

RED HOT POKER ROAST: Allow two weiners per person, arranging them side by side; run a string through top and bottom. Broil; tie, curved side out, around a mound of potato salad, pressing the weiners into the salad so that it resembles a crown.

SPOOKS SPECIAL: Macaroni salad with diced or shredded American cheese, shredded carrots, pickles and celery. Garnish with ripe olives.

GOBLIN'S DELIGHT: Baked beans and brown bread.

BREAD

MUFFINS OF MYSTERY: One-half cup of chopped dates and walnuts added to regular muffin recipe.

TIDBITS

DEMON SQUARES—Gingerbread Squares.
DEVIL'S DICE—Cheese Cubes.
CAT'S EYES—Stuffed Olives.
GHOST CHARMS—Celery Curls.
SATAN'S NIBBLINGS—Spiced or salted nuts.

DESSERTS

PHANTOM FINISH—Doughnuts and Cider.
WHEEL OF FATE—Gingerbread with orange icing and balls of orange ice or orange ice cream.

BEVERAGES

WITCHES' BREW—Coffee.
SPRITES' NECTAR—Cider, hot or cold, plain or spiced.

Death Toll in County Reaches 68 Compared To 31 Last Year

Two sailors were killed and at least 13 persons injured in a series of San Mateo County accidents over the weekend which brought the county death toll from accidents to 68 to date this year as compared to 31 at the same time last year.

Killed were: Firemen 2/c David Talmadge Stinson, 18, next-of-kin, father, John W. Stinson of Statesville, N.C., and Carpenter's Mate 2/c William J. Garnett, 26, next-of-kin, his wife, Mary, of Charleston, S. C.

California Highway Patrolmen reported that John Marchek of 4319 23rd St., San Francisco, picked up 11 sailors late Sunday night and was driving them down to their Tanforan base. Near the entrance to Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Marchek's pick-up truck blew a tire and the sailors got out to help.

At about 2 a. m., a southbound car driven by Albert L. Douglas Jr., 33, of 509 Hazel Ave., San Bruno, approached the parked truck 170 yards south of the Cypress Lawn and El Camino Real intersection.

Witnesses told the CHP that Douglas' car was going at a fast rate of speed and that the headlights were not on. The machine sped on toward the talking, laughing sailors and smashed into the middle of the group, witnesses said. The two sailors were killed instantly.

Two other sailors; Seaman 1/c Thomas J. Barow and Carpenter's Mate 1/c Herbert F. White, were injured and taken to Tanforan Hospital, the CHP reported. At 5:45 a. m. today, Douglas was booked at the county jail on manslaughter charges. Bail was set at $2500 cash. He listed his occupation as a lather.

William E. Navin, 51, of 629 33rd Ave., San Francisco, derailed a San Francisco street car at 6:10 p. m. Saturday when he rammed his northbound car into a southbound street car on Old Mission Rd. near the north property line of Mulloy's according to the CHP. Navin was taken to South San Francisco Hospital suffering from serious head injuries. The street car operator, Dimitri Biboli, 50, of 148 Bonview St., San Francisco, was treated at the same hospital for lacerations.

Mildred M. Herrin, 27, of 341 Weeks St., East Palo Alto, suffered lacerations of the left knee and tongue and possible chest injuries when her car rammed another machine Saturday at 6:10 p. m. on Willow Rd., one-fifth of a mile east of Middlefield Rd., officers said. The car that Mrs. Herrin rammed was not at the scene when the CHP arrived and Mrs. Herrin, a Dibble Hospital beauty operator, could not remember it. She was treated at Palo Alto Hospital.

Frank S. Walker, 37, and his mother, Mrs. Abbie Walker 68, both of Santa Clara, were injured Sunday at 6 p. m. on Skyline Blvd. and Hillside Blvd., the CHP reported. Their southbound car was struck by a machine driven by James Flouris, 30, Tanforan sailor, when the sailor turned onto Skyline Blvd. Mrs. Walker has possible skull injuries and her son has lacerations of the face and knee and possible rib injuries, Mills Memorial Hospital reported Monday.

Nick J. Martinez, 33, of 45 Pierce St., San Francisco, suffered lacerations and possible internal injuries when a hit-run driver slammed into the rear of the Martinez car on Bayshore Hwy., three-tenths of a mile north of the Brisbane intersection Sunday at 8 p.m., CHP officers said. Martinez was taken to the South San Francisco Hospital.

Leonard J. Brophy, 42, of 2403 First St., San Mateo, and his passenger, Anthony Cardinale, 29, 846 Kansas St., San Francisco, were injured at 5:40 p.m. Sunday in another rear-end collision, CHP officers reported. A car driven by Floyd Evans, merchant seaman of Farmersville, smashed into the Brophy machine on Bayshore Hwy., one-half mile north of the Millbrae intersection. They were taken to South San Francisco Hospital where Brophy is suffering from broken ribs and Cardinale, lacerations.

Redwood City police reported that Mrs. Ruth P. Grant of 761 Orange Ave., San Carlos, received minor injuries when the car her husband, Norman, was driving was hit from the rear by another machine driven by Francis V. Durante, 38, of 5032 Mission St., San Francisco.

Police said the accident occurred at 6:02 p.m. Sunday at Bayshore Hwy. and Rogers St.

Mrs. Kathryn Baron, 64, of 2340 Brussels St., San Francisco, suffered a knee cap injury in a two-car collision at San Bruno, police there reported. She was taken to Mills Memorial Hospital.

'Suds in Your Eye' in S.F.

Happy days will be back again on Geary St. with the reopening of the hilarious play "Suds In Your Eye" at the Curran Theater Monday evening. The same company that convulsed the record-breaking audiences in September who came to enjoy the fabulous characters of Mary Laswell's salty book will again come to San Francisco headed by June Evans as "Mrs. Feeley," Maudie Doyle Pricket as "Miss Tinkham" and Irene Seidner as "Mrs. Rasmussen."

"Suds In Your Eye" following the run ending Nov. 17 at the Curran, will start a transcontinental tour and the hundreds of thousands of book readers everywhere are eagerly awaiting its arrival. Play tells story of three old ladies who play Cupid in the romance of a handsome sailor lad just back from the South Pacific and at the same time have their legal troubles keeping a dilapidated junk yard from falling to pieces—all aided by numerous bottles of cold beer.

The play has just closed a run of eight weeks at the Belasco Theater, Los Angeles, and from indications the attendance at the Curran will again tax the seating capacity of this beautiful and comfortable theater. Seats are now on sale for all performances and mail orders receive prompt attention. Ample parking is availabe near the theater for those coming from out of town.

Rolando intends to develop the property into industrial sites and also plans to operate a distributing lumber yard for this area, the San Mateo County Title Co. which requested recording of the deed reported.

Bridal Shower:

Early November Wedding Plans Set By Alice Nelson and Henry Castens Jr.

Miss Alice Nelson, bride-elect of Henry Castens Jr., USN, was the honored guest at a bridal shower on Friday at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Mills, 181 Grand St., with Mrs. Anna Seaberg as co-hostess.

The engagement of the couple was announced recently as a surprise at a meeting of the Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, national business girls' sorority, when the bride-elect passed the traditional box of candy at a dinner party at the Villa Chartier. Plans are for the wedding to take place early in November.

Chrysanthemums decorated the rooms for the shower and a miniature bride and groom centered the refreshment table.

Guests attending were Mmes. Sara Main, Jesse Nelson, Harry Kennedy, Homer White, Rose Michaels, Walter Kasberg, Floyd Granger, Judson Mak, Elin Waller, Anna Nelson, mother of the honored guest; Hilma Anderson, Emil Berndsten, Adolph Bowman, Alice Zegura and Mildred Nelson.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. Henry Castens of Sebastopol and of Mrs. Nell Somes of Santa Rosa, is a veteran of 21 months in the Pacific Theater.

Bridal Shower Fetes Army Nurse, Lt. Nina Wendel

First Lt. Nina Wendel, Army Nurse Corps of Dibble Hospital, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous bridal shower given on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. James R. Warren, 125 Hopkins Ave., Redwood City. Co-hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Robert Storrs of Palo Alto and Doris Berry, SK 2/c, WAVE, of Redwood City.

Lieutenant Wendel has revealed her engagement to Staff Sgt. Paul Kniess, now stationed at Mills Field, who served many months overseas. Wedding plans have not, as yet, been announced.

Mrs. Storrs arranged the games and entertainment at the shower which centered around the presenting of gifts. Refreshments were served buffet style at a table covered with a white lace cloth and centered with candles and a large bridal doll.

Attending were PFC Bill Williams, Cpl. Warren Soule, Cpl. Fred German, Cpl. Florence Slater and Cadet Nurse Matilda Wall, all of Dibble; Cpl. Arthur Bonin of the Veterans Administration in Palo Alto, Mrs. Betty Calbette of San Francisco, Junior Price of San Carlos, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Tallent, Mrs. Leon Machell, Lee Smith, Lucille Conwell, Genevieve Garloff, Ruth Arnold, Gladys Newman, Jerry Weaver, USN, of Redwood City, Nancy Arthur, Cpl. and Mrs. Doug Hawkins of Palo Alto, and Sergeant Kniess.

Harmony Clan Members Entertain

Members of the Harmony Clan entertained at a dinner party given by the Wesleyan Club of the First Methodist Church recently at Wilson's Cafe in Palo Alto. The "Double H Boys" of Woodside rendered western songs, Ruthie Camera did a Hawaiian dance and to conclude the program, Patsy Marcus and the "Double H Boys" did a song and dance trio number.

Other recent activities of the Harmony Clan include the Double H Boys' recent appearance at the noon day rally at the San Mateo Junior College; Margaret Gates' vocal numbers at the East Palo Alto Grange, and the club's regular monthly presentation for the Palo Alto Musical Workshop at the Veterans Facilities Hospital.

The program given in ward 2-C at the hospital included numbers by Barbara Lee Champion, soprano, accompanied by Mary Birmele; Gloria Ward and Patsy Marcus, twin tap, accompanied by Mrs. Tom Ward, and Jose Abate, vocal selections, accompanied by Miss Birmele.

Gunshot Victim Has Little Chance

PALO ALTO—A 13-year-old Los Altos boy, shot through the head Sunday with a .38 caliber revolver bullet in an "unloaded" gun accident, was given only a "fair chance" to survive an injury that in most cases proves fatal.

The boy, Gordon Erickson, was accidentally shot at close range when he and his brother Robert were examining a revolver the latter had taken from a parked car on Bryant St., Mountain View.

The bullet blasted a hole through the front part of the brain, entering the youth's head above his left eye, and emerging two inches above the right ear. An operation in which broken bone and a part of the brain were removed, was performed at the Palo Alto hospital. The surgeon who operated said today that should the boy survive, there is a chance his mentality would not be affected.

The accident occurred yesterday afternoon in an orchard on the Joseph Seitz ranch off San Antonio Rd. The boy's father Arvid Erickson, is foreman of the ranch.

According to the story Robert told Dep. Sheriff J. C. Hooton, the gun went off as he was passing it to his younger brother.

Exhibition of Hospital Car To Open Victory Loan Drive

Redwood City's Victory Loan campaign will start next Monday with the exhibition of an army hospital car it was announced Tuesday by J. C. Ferrell, special events chairman.

Arrangements were completed late yesterday with the army and the Southern Pacific Co. to bring the car to Redwood City for the first two days of the bond campaign.

The complete army hospital on wheels, one of the largest railroad cars ever built, will be shunted to the Butcherfield siding near El Camino Real between Jefferson and James Aves. It will be open to inspection Monday and Tuesday by all who buy victory bonds and stamps, Ferrell announced.

Tickets are being printed and will be allocated to the schools and to all bond distributing agencies — banks, theaters and the post office —as soon as they are received from the printer.

J. A. Buhler, chairman of the war finance committee, expressed his thanks to the army and to the Southern Pacific Co. for assigning the big hospital car to Redwood City. He pointed out that the railroad company volunteered to waive a $128 switching charge in order that the car might be viewed here.

Meanwhile other plans were being completed rapidly to rouse public interest in the Victory Loan. Yesterday brought these developments:

1. A committee of merchants led by John Ryan split Redwood City's business district into eastern nd western halves, named rival campaign captains and planned a contest to help Redwood City reach its quota of $568,000.

2. Maj. W. J. Cosgrove and Capt. F. E. Spann from Ft. Ord promised that a contingent of between 500 and 600 troops would arrive in Redwood City Nov. 2, bivouac at Hawes Park overnight and participate in the city's Victory Parade Nov. 3. The troops, members of an amphibious tank battalion, will bring with them two tanks and an amphibious tractor, and their own band. The two officers inspected the bivouac area yesterday.

3. Dates were announced for the Saturday street sales as follows: Junior Chamber of Commerce and AWVS Juniors, Nov. 3; Lions Club, Nov. 10; American Legion, Nov. 17; Kiwanis Club, Nov. 24; Commuters Club, Dec. 1 and Exchange Club, Dec. 8, closing day of the campaign.

In the merchants' bond contest, Redwood City was divided at Hamilton St. The "East" team, captained by B. B. Berman, will canvass the territory east of Hamilton, including Upper Broadway, and El Camino Real from the north city limits to Jefferson Ave. The "South" team, led by S. T. Ratliff, will cover the remainder of Broadway, all of Main St. and El Camino Real south of Jefferson Ave.

Members of Ryan's committee include F. H. Miller, M. E. Peterson, Floyd McCue, W. E. Haydock, H. M. Robinson, James R. Hedge, Charles Mitchell, Lionel Berryhill and Edward Kaufman. The committee met with Buhler and Ray Spangler, Victory Loan chairman, at the Tribune office yesterday.

No Endorsements At GOP Dinner

In order to correct an erroneous impression, Mrs. Randolph Madison of Hillsborough, president of the San Mateo County Council of Republican Women's Club, today requested the Tribune to emphatically deny that the dinner meeting scheduled by the council for the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, Friday evening, at 7 o'clock under the slogan of "Know Your Leaders" is a political meeting for the purpose of promoting the candidacy of anyone for an elective office.

"The dinner program is a part of a specific campaign undertaken by our organization to enable the electorate of San Mateo County to meet their leaders face to face and hear them discuss the various phases of their offices.

"Our by-laws prohibit pre-primary endorsements," said Mrs. Madison. "As the women's auxiliary of the official Republican Party we do not participate or endorse candidates for any party office in the primaries, although we do work for and support the party standard bearer in the finals.

"This dinner is open to all county residents, irrespective of their political affiliations. It is, in our opinion, a democratic method of bringing officials closer to the people and vice versa.

"United States Senator William F. Knowland, as well as Gov. Earl Warren have received invitations. Senator Knowland in expressing his regrets said in part, 'please rest assured that as soon as Congress is in recess, I shall return to California and will look forward to the opportunity of meeting with you and your organization at that time.'

"I hope," continued Mrs. Madison, "that this will clarify the situation as we did extend invitations to our national, state, county and city leaders and to date our acceptances include Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Fred Houser, Mrs. A. H. Robertson, of Sacramento, president, northern district, California Council of Republican Women, and Assemblyman Harrison W. Call who will address our meeting. County supervisors and municipal officials are expected also."

Airport Bond Gains Aid Of Chambers

BURLINGAME — Backing the $20,000,000 San Francisco Airport Bond Issue is the task of Burlingame, San Mateo and San Bruno Chambers of Commerce set for themselves when they met Tuesday to discuss advertising schemes to bring the issue before the public's eye.

The six-point plan is designed to combat public apathy on the project which comes to vote on Nov. 6 through mail, handbill, billboard and broadcasting advertising. Marsden S. Blois, vice president of the San Francisco Bank and member of San Francisco Mayor Roger Lapham's committee to push the bond issue, met with the three chamber presidents to discuss plans. He will carry the proposals to the San Francisco committee for consideration.

Specifically plans were outlined to:

1. Mail postcards to voters in San Francisco sent from citizens who commute to work in San Francisco;

2. Clip bond issue reminders in restaurant menus in San Mateo County;

3 Place handbills on trains and buses for county commuters;

4. Ask Bay Meadows officials to announce the issue at the track several times daily over loudspeakers;

5. Put bus cards pushing the issue in local buses;

6. Advertise the issue on billboards on El Camino Real and Bayshore Hwy. owned by Burlingame and San Mateo Chambers.

McNutt Heads Seal Campaign

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt will again head the coming sale of Christmas seals for the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Assn., that organization announced Tuesday. McNutt has directed the drive for the past few years.

Sale of these seals is the association's only source of revenue. Though the cost is trifling, the seals represent the never-ending fight against tuberculosis.

Proceeds from last year's sales made possible the purchase of the $20,000 mobile X-ray laboratory that is now being used for examinations of citizens throughout the county for the purpose of detecting the earliest evidence of tuberculosis so that prompt protection may be afforded. Various large cities are acquiring similar laboratories, but there are only eight in the United States now.

Dischargees Warned To Check Voting Status

San Mateo County Clerk William H. Augustus Monday warned discharged service personnel to check their status as voters in the county.

Persons registered in this county prior to their entering the service and who have returned to the address given on their affidavit of registration need only notify the election-registration department of their return, he said.

However, a change of residence necessitates re-registering, he added.

Those who registered while in service under the war voter's affidavit of registration must reregister upon their return home to assure being able to vote at local elections and next year's state and county elections, he explained.

Approximately 3500 men and women in the service were registered to vote in this country as absentees in the last general election, Augustus stated.

Persons may register at the election-registration department, courthouse, Redwood City, or at the office of the city clerks or field deputies located in the various communities of the county.

Mrs. Ruth Close Addresses PTA On Mobile X-Ray

Mrs. Ruth Close, RN, addressed the members of the McKinley Parent-Teacher Assn. at the last regular meeting with Mrs. S. A. Cottrell presiding. Her subject was the new county X-ray and tuberculosis unit, which will be used in examining the chests of the students in the schools.

A trained staff of medical men will make the examinations, said Mrs. Close, and a complete check of the heart and spine will detect any signs of heart trouble or curvature of the spine. These X-rays will be kept on file so that the family doctor may have access to them, explained Mrs. Close.

Mrs. Cottrell introduced the officers and chairmen of the PTA who made committee reports. Mrs. R. L. Frederickson, colonel of the Community Chest Drive, stated that McKinley PTA had gone over its quota by collecting $480.20.

Mrs. Dall Brown read the PTA character thought and the McKinley Glee Club under the direction of Miss Rosalie Carrington, sang a group of numbers.

Mr. Ralph Case, principal, introduced the teachers to the members present.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mmes. W. H. Mixter, Horace E. Mickley and O. R. Nystrom at tables decorated in the Halloween theme. Mrs. Alfred Wendt Jr. and Mrs. Fred Schmitz poured.

Woman Hit By Auto On Broadway

Mrs. Mona E. Madison, manager of the Sterling Cleaners here, suffered possible head injuries at 7:55 a.m. Wednesday when struck by a car as she was crossing Broadway at Arguello St., Redwood City police reported.

Mrs. Madison, 46, who lives at 412 South Ellsworth Ave., San Mateo, had just alighted from a southbound train and was crossing Broadway to reach the cleaning plant at 318 Arguello St.

The car that struck her was driven by Robert W. Wood, 23, of 1232 Laurel Ave., Palo Alto. He was driving south on Arguello and had just turned east onto Broadway when he smashed into Mrs. Madison in front of the Redwood Town Shop.

Wood was not held. A large crowd of onlookers was attracted to the accident scene while police waited for a Peninsula ambulance which took Mrs. Madison to Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo.

Mills Hospital authorities said her condition was not "too serious."

W. C. Bartlett Appointed To Belmont City Council

BELMONT — The city council here Monday night appointed W. C. Bartlett city councilman to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Francis Kilkeary.

Mayor J. F. Furlong Jr. moved the appointment of Bartlett, commander of the Belmont American Legion Post, and the action was given unanimous council approval. There was no discussion of the matter.

Kilkeary has moved with his family to San Francisco.

Bartlett said today, "I would like to see Belmont get ahead and I'm going to do everything in my power to see that it does." The new city councilman fought in World War I.

Sanitation in Belmont was discussed at length during the remainder of the council session. A report was made on the insanitary conditions around the chrysanthemum garden on Ruth St. The matter had already been brought to the council's attention. Councilmen granted a two-weeks extension of a 30-day notice to have the conditions cleaned up.

Belmont residents were reported to be throwing garbage out at the city dump which is against the law. The council urged co-operation in keeping Sixth Ave. clean.

Turn Perron Over to Navy

Gerald Perron, 18, Tanforan sailor who admitted burglarizing the Stork Club in San Carlos last Saturday morning, Wednesday was turned over to navy officials for a general court-martial, Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. A. S. Whitmore announced.

Perron, who admitted the $300 burglary Sunday morning, also faces navy charges of wearing insignia other than his own and of being absent over leave.

He was taken into custody Saturday night by a San Carlos police officer who recognized him from and ID card picture left at the scene.

Wallet Leads To Identity Of Burglar

An 18-year-old Tanforan sailor who bungled a San Carlos burglary when he left his wallet and ID card at the scene, Monday was arraigned on charges of taking $243 in cash and checks from the San Carlos Stork Club early Saturday morning.

The youth, Gerald Perron, was taken into custody Saturday night after a day in which he cached all but $71 of the loot, spending the money on a $30 wristwatch, a dinner for a girl acquaintance and a new wallet.

Officer Frank Lucero, wearing plainclothes, spotted Perron from the ID card picture and interrupted his planned attendance at the San Carlos Theater in order to question the sailor standing by the theater box office.

Lucero was suspicious of Perron's bandaged left hand, gashed when he broke a side window to enter the bar. Investigating officers had earlier discovered bloodstains at the burglary scene.

Yesterday morning, when Perron confessed, San Carlos police followed his directions to a bar, a home of friends, and the youth's Tanforan locker, where he had cached the loot.

Perron sealed approximately $50 in an envelope which he asked a bartender to take for safekeeping, while a similar amount of cash was hidden in the garage of acquaintances without their knowledge.

Approximately $50 in checks was in the Tanforan locker, police reported.

Perron, whose return to San Carlos was anticipated by police who opined the sailor would seek return of his wallet, was identified by Bartender Wilbur C. Thompson as having been in the club the evening before the burglary.

Thompson, who has living quarters in the rear of the club, had gone out after closing time, police said, and had not notified officers to watch the unoccupied building.

Perron's wallet contained identification cards giving his age as 21, Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. A. S. Whitmore, who took a statement from him this morning reported.

Perron took the cash and checks contained in a money bag on the back of the bar, San Carlos police said.

Attempts Suicide In Jail

John Manville Fenton, 34, tire salesman and son of a wealthy San Mateo executive, attempted to commit suicide Saturday at 4:10 p.m. in the county jail here, deputy sheriffs reported Monday.

Fenton, held on bad check charges in Redwood City, Atherton, Palo Alto and San Carlos, was arrested Oct. 1 by Redwood City Police Officer S. E. Douglas.

Deputies said that Fenton cut his wrists with a razor blade. A trusty yelled down to Jailer Jack Quinlan when he saw blood spurting from Fenton's wrists. Quinlan fixed a tourniquet on the salesman's wrist and called Dr. Harry E. Mason.

Deputy sheriffs said that Fenton attempted to kill himself when he received a letter from his wife, Charlotte, saying that she was going through with divorce actions. The Fentons live in San Carlos.
